Thank you for purchasing the First-Light USA LIBERATOR™ Light. Please carefully review this manual prior to use.

IMPORTANT – PLEASE READ FIRST

The intense white light emitted by the primary white LED may cause temporary blinding, regardless of the brightness level used. Use caution during operation. Do not point light directly into eyes at any distance. Not for use by children.

LITHIUM BATTERY WARNING

Lithium batteries can be dangerous if used improperly. Never disassemble, short circuit, recharge, or expose to water, fire, or high temperatures. Never use batteries of different ages, capacities, or brands together. Store separately and properly dispose of batteries after use. Keep away from children.

NOTE: High quality, rechargeable CR123 batteries may be used to power the Freehand Light. The user should identify the voltage capacity of any rechargeable batteries prior to installing them into the Freehand Light.

IMPORTANT: Never install any rechargeable CR123 batteries that exceed a combined voltage of 10 volts as this will damage the internal circuitry and void the warranty.

To reenter Lockout Mode at any time during use, press and hold the Constant-On and Cycle Control buttons simultaneously for 1 second. The red “lockout” indicator will illuminate.

MOMENTARY MODE

The Momentary Control button activates the primary white LED at maximum brightness when pressed. When released, the white LED turns off.

CONSTANT-ON MODE

The Constant-on Control button activates the primary white LED in Constant-On Mode.

- To turn on the primary white LED from the off position, press and release the Constant-On Control button.
- To turn the light off, press and release the Constant-On Control button.

CYCLE CONTROL

STROBE MODE

Activate strobe by pressing the Strobe button. The strobe will activate as long as the Strobe button is pressed.

The Ready Strobe function can be activated ONLY as a momentary function and cannot be locked on.

NOTE: Upon exiting Strobe Mode, the light will default to the last used function.
